Chapter 7. The Big Laddoo

Summary

This poem talks about imagining big things like a giant laddoo, a huge child, and a vast sea. It also talks about what would happen if these big things were combined.

Timmy started his story by imagining what would happen if all the laddoos in the world turned into one gigantic laddoo. He made his friends giggle as they pictured how enormous and yummy it would be.

Next, Timmy wondered aloud about what it would be like if all the kids in the world became one super big child. His friends laughed at the idea of a giant kid playing in the playground.

Then, Timmy imagined all the oceans joining together to make one giant sea. His friends' eyes widened as they imagined swimming in such a huge ocean.

With a mischievous smile, Timmy imagined the big child grabbing the giant laddoo and getting ready for a fun adventure.

To end his story with a splash, Timmy pictured the big child throwing the huge laddoo into the giant sea, creating a big "splish splash" that made everyone laugh.

The Big Laddoo

The poem teaches us to use our imagination and enjoy thinking about big and exciting things. It also shows us that big things can be fascinating and bring joy.

New words

Splish-splash : The sound made by something falling into water.
Sea : A large body of saltwater that covers most of the Earth's surface.
